GRAINS. Admit the right, though you are obliged to say, "I was mistaken." The worst infidelity is that which praises God, but never obeys him. The victory of success is half won when one gains the habit of work. Don't express a positive opinion unless you perfectly understand what you are talking about. Sin and hedgehogs are born without spikes; but how they prick and wound after birth we all know. Bows drawn at a venture hit in a way that astonishes us, when God puts His own arrows in the string. If you do not wish for His Kingdom, don't pray for it. But if you do, you must do more than pray for it. When Christ comes with His scales, thou shalt not be measured with that man; but every man shall be weighed with God. Read your Bible, fill your whole soul with the thought of Christ; make of Him not only a Redeemer, but a brother; not only a Saviour, but a friend. Intentional wrongdoing, carelessness, thoughtlessness and ignorance can be more or less guarded against and corrected, and it's every one's duty to grow out of such habits. Peace is the proper result of the Christian temper. It is the greatest kindness which our religion doth give us, that it brings us to the settlement of mind and consistency within ourselves. A child's kiss Set on thy smiling lips, shall make thee glad; A poor man served by thee, shall make thee rich; A sick man helped by thee, shall make thee strong; Thou shalt be served thyself by every sense or service which thou renderest. The soul that cannot entirely trust God, whether man be pleased or displeased, can never long be true to him; for while you are eyeing man, you are losing God and stalling religion at the very heart. Faithfulness is a higher attainment than mere success, and, unlike success, it is within us all. Perhaps the progress of our spiritual life would be swifter if we, remembering this, would strive less after success and more after faithfulness. Though the triller does not chronicle his own vain words and wasted hours, they chronicle themselves. They find their indelible place in that book of remembrance with which man hand cannot tamper, and from which no being save one can delude them. They are noted in the memory of God. God knows where we can do our best and better than we do. Hence it is well for us to realize that we are just where we ought to be when we are in the place where God has sent us. "If each drop of rain," says Charles Kingsley, "should fall," says Charles Kingsley, "God's showers would not fall, as they do now, on the evil and the good alike." So it is that the world is benefited by God's choosing the place for his individual workers in the world.
